VINIFICATION

The vinification of each grape variety respects the potential developed on the vine, which makes it possible to carefully extract the aromatic profile. After unloading the grapes, they are left to macerate on the skins for a while, which is necessary to extract the colour that will give our wine its pink colour. After the grapes have been gently pressed, it is time for fermentation, where the wine remains in contact with its yeasts for at least four months, giving it depth and persistence on the palate
